FDR: Polio, Perseverance, & Public Health +

TIMOTHY A. NORTON

Tim is a seasoned executive, consultant, and tour director with a distinguished career in development, communications, and marketing across higher education and nonprofit organizations. Locally, he served at Reinhardt University from 2015 to 2019, where he contributed to institutional advancement and strategic communications initiatives.

After decades of leading philanthropic and organizational advancement efforts, Tim began a new chapter fueled by his passion for storytelling, history, and human connection. Today, he serves as a tour director and guide, leading educational and historical tours in Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and numerous sites along the East Coast, as well as several national parks across the United States.

Among his proudest professional accomplishments is the launch and growth of a successful development, marketing, and communications consultancy that he led for more than a decade.

Tim holds a bachelor's degree in Communication from the University of Central Florida as well as master's degrees in Journalism and Theology.

He and his wife, Dawn, a professional interpreter for the Deaf specializing in healthcare and education, have shared a life of adventure, service, and purpose for more than 43 years. They have made their permanent home at Grandview Lake in Pickens County. Their son, Luke, is a professional photographer and digital media executive working for the Ralph Lauren Co. based in New York City.
